Jeugd & Muziek Prijs Compositie 2007

(Youth & Music Prize Composition 2007)

Jury report (translation):

The winner of the Youth and Music Prize for composition in 2007 is a promising and versatile composer with a distinctive, highly personal discourse. He is a composer pur sang and has built an extensive record of achievements at an early age. He composes from new and surprising angles, has a broad technical background and uses a big orchestral sound palette. His thoughtful, but spontaneous-looking compositions appeal to a new and broad audience. The jury is convinced that the composer is on the threshold of a great career, and supports him by awarding him this prize.